

ABOUT THIRD TERMS.

A correspondent of the Enterprise, writing from Reno under date of the 10th instant, enters a general protest against giving nominations for third terms to candidates for State offices. The writer says:

"Though it is some time before our State election comes off, there are even now a few facts patent to every observer. There is not the harmony in the ranks of the Republican party we wish there was. There are many bitter memories of the past that weaken and distract us, and the course of President Hayes has caused no little difference of opinion among life long Republicans. Opposed to us stands a party always under severe discipline, and to day united as never before by the apparent nearness of the spoils of office. To go into the fight next Fall with a weak ticket, means defeat for the Republican party. Our party cannot afford to undertake the task of packing a third term through the next campaign, no matter who he is. We have nothing against any of the gentlemen who now enjoy State offices but we say to them 'Your nominations for any State office will bring upon us a load we cannot carry through the battle to victory.' The Democrats have no notion of attempting the task in the person of Governor Bradley. They mean to have new and good men, and we must follow their example in this or consent to be defeated. The people want a man for a third term. In the language of the Enterprise, Let us have rotation in office."

Commenting upon this letter the Enterprise remarks as follows:

We are disposed to agree with President Hayes and therefore to some extent with our correspondent that after enjoying the emoluments of a lucrative State or Federal office for two terms, the incumbent should recognize the propriety of giving way to some one else. Let us not be sure that the establishment of an inflexible rule of this character would be advisable. Two three or half a dozen terms in Congress either as Senator or Representative should not disqualify the Representative for reelection. National legislators serve their constituents best—admitting them, of course, to be both capable and honest—who have had more experience in that capacity, and men have continued almost half a lifetime uninterruptedly in Congress from the same State or district. While the rule therefore could not be made inexorable in a general application without injury to the public service, we cannot do less than admit that in a great majority of elective State and county offices capable of being satisfactorily filled by business men of intelligence third terms should be generally avoided. A reasonable rotation in office tends to familiarize the public with the details of government and implies a closer popular scrutiny into the management of public affairs.

SITTING BULL'S AMBITION.

Two Bears. Theory of the Meaning of his Return to American Soil—The Union of his Nation Under the British Flag.

A reporter of the Cleveland (Ohio) Plaindealer has had an interview with Two Bears, one of the members of Buffalo Bill's dramatic company and a veritable Sioux chief. He was one of the delegation of Sioux chiefs who recently conferred with President Hayes at Washington. He appeared at all times in his native dress, and, as may be supposed, he is subject to a good deal of annoyance from his inquisitive white brother. He has a variable disposition and frequently appears morose and downcast which is supposed to be caused by the numerous wounds which he has received in battle giving him constant pain. He informed the reporter that a white man in his place would have been dead long ago.

"What do you think of the way white people live?" was asked.

"It is all strange to me, answered the chief, and there are many I don't understand. The white brother has been kind to me, and when I go back to my people I will have much to tell them."

When informed that Sitting Bull was again in the United States he appeared in deep thought for a moment and then advanced a very probable theory. He said that Sitting Bull was ambitious and desired to be a great chief. He believed his object was to induce his red brothers of all tribes to go with him to the British Dominion where the buffalo was plenty and where they could live in peace. Sitting Bull would then be at their head and become the greatest Indian chief. As to their hostility to this country, he said his people now believed it to be useless to resist the soldiers longer, his brothers were but few, they could not live here and be happy, they were going, therefore to the land of their White Mother (Queen Mother) and live peacefully among themselves.

Osman Pasha was a close student and admirer of the campaigns of Generals Lee and Joe Johnson, which he had translated into Turkish specially for him.

The Czar of Russia, besides being a good linguist, delights in French novels, plays and music. He is a man of great goodness of heart and is said never to have quailed with a personal friend.

Mr. Whittier's friends in Haverhill, Amesbury, Salisbury, Mass., and other towns in the vicinity, propose a literary club to bear his name, celebrating his birthday yearly with a dinner and literary exercises.

Queen Victoria says, in her life of Prince Albert, that he did not accumulate a large fortune which he passed over to her, as is generally supposed. He died leaving no fortune at all and barely money enough to pay his bills.

Gustave Dore, following the example set by several painters of the present day, is now occupied upon a great work in sculpture, the subject being, "Death Suffocating Genius with Palm Leaves." The group is intended for the Exhibition of 1878.

Mr. Alexander H. Stephens says that when he entered Congress in 1843, one of the first deep impressions made upon his mind was by Rufus Choate. He describes Choate, at that time as a remarkable looking man of medium size, with raven locks, a striking black eye, a pallid cheek, a bearing as if fully charged with his subject, and his hand trembled as if with electricity.

Don Carlos—who is traveling in cognito in Italy—has been robbed of his Collar of the Golden Fleece, an ornament valued not only in the pecuniary sense, but historically as having been made, in 1843, for Philip Duke of Burgundy, on the occasion of his founding the order in celebration of his third marriage. Don Carlos always carried it about with him and when he opened his trunk at Milan, he found the case empty.

THE ALTA TUMBLER.

'Long faces' does not correctly describe the faces seen about the bulletin boards yesterday when the crash in Alta began—the faces were more angry than elongated or gloomy. Those who were the heaviest losers said they had been misled by the Cook brothers whom they had always thought their friends. Had the Cooks been in town yesterday they would have found it very unpleasant almost anywhere along C street. There were no noisy demonstrations nor any loud talk. All were quiet, but there was that in the still, stern faces of many that looked ugly—a black, stormy look. Not a few here are badly hurt—more than to speak of it—but the losers in this city probably do not number tens to the hundreds that have lost in San Francisco. There they seem to have become panic stricken and thrown in their stocks long after they should have ceased to sell. They appear to have suddenly concluded that there is no ore at all in the mine, whereas it will probably soon be seen that there is a very fair showing when there will be a reaction, and those who still hold their stock will not be so badly off as they now imagine. Superintendent Derby shows two assays made yesterday afternoon from ore taken out of the south drift on the 1150 level, one of which shows $65.99 and the other $77.78 per ton. He says they have not drifted through the ore to the west, and that no holes have been drilled through the ore or into it. —Enterprise, 12th.

THE COMSTOCK.

The Crash in Alta—It Demoralizes the Whole Comstock Range—Only a Grand Development Can Bring Stocks Up to the Old Figure—What is Being Done at the Ophir—No More Pig in the Poke—What Superintendent Derby Says of the Alta—The Flooded Mines.

[Enterprise 12th.]

The grand and unlooked for crash in Alta has so demoralized the market and unsettled the minds of dealers that one can hardly give a guess at what another day will bring forth. Men for the time seem to be suspicious of everything on the Comstock lode. For what has happened at the south end of the lode the north and must suffer, merit or no merit. The trouble began with the Justice muck, spread to the adjoining claims, and now seems likely temporarily to affect the whole range. A grand development in the Ophir, Mexican, Union Consolidated, or some leading mine at Gold Hill, is the only speedy and sure cure for the present south end distemper. Even though a first class ore body should now be discovered, it would be necessary for it to be thrown open to the inspection of all who might wish to see it before it would be generally believed in.

The Ophir is being put in shape for the exploration of the unknown regions of the 1900 level as rapidly as can be done, the nature of the ground being taken into consideration. Once crosscutting shall be commenced in that mine there will be no delays or false alarms. The taking care of the water that may be encountered and every other contingency will have been provided for beforehand.

After the present tempest in the south end tempest shall have subsided and the air cleared up and when the companies in that neighborhood shall have ascertained who is the right full owner of the ground into which all are digging and about which all are quarreling, some company will probably set to work and develop the bonanza which all mining men believe to be near at hand—so near at hand that it has already been touched upon at several points. Things have now reached such a pass in that section that no one feels safe in buying anything at the south end of the lead. An understanding of some kind must be arrived at by these companies before they can expect to see their stock reach a very high figure, as people who are now out will not care to buy fights and lawsuits. Nor will they care to buy that which they cannot see. Any development made must be open to inspection and go for what it is worth, or promises to be worth, as was the case when the new development was made in the Ophir. Even when all is shown up the public imagination will always run ahead of the reality.

In regard to the present situation in the Alta, Superintendent Derby says they are now drifting south on the 1150 level in good ore. He showed us two assays made of ore taken from this part of the mine yesterday, one showing $65.99 to the ton and the other $77.78. He says they have not drifted through the ore going west nor have they drilled through it in that direction—in short that there are no "anger holes" on that level.

At the flooded mines no special effort is being made to reduce the water below the 2000 level, though the pumps and bailing tanks are running at a moderate speed. The V. Bob of the Savage must be in running order before another earnest attack is made on the water. It will be some days yet before the new foundation will be completed, and then time will be required for lowering the bob into the mine and setting it up in proper shape.

At the leading Gold Hill mines all is going well, and in several good prospects for finding paying deposits of ore are being obtained. In both the Belcher and Crown Point ores have been found that are almost rich enough to pay for milling.

ACCOUNTING FOR THE WEATHER—"Happy New Year, Judge. Remarkable weather this time of the year," said the prisoner at the Fifty seventh Street Court.

"You are said to have been very drunk, Mr. Carson?"

"Judge, I've lived hereabout for many a day, but this is the most extraordinary run of weather."

"The officer declares he found you holding to a lamp post and about it."

"I agree with those people, Your Honor, who say the climate is undergoing an entire change. Winter hanging around the neck of Summer, and all that kind of thing."

"I am sorry to deprive you of talking in these climatic changes during your New Year's call."

"This transplanting of the seasons means something, Your Honor. It means nothing less than—"

"Ten days."

CARP.

Of this variety of fish Prof. Baird writes:

The carp is a fish which has been domesticated for a thousand years in Europe, occupying there and in China the same position among fish that poultry does among birds, being susceptible of cultivation in limited waters, and thriving in sluggish and muddy lowland streams, entirely independent of the temperature; indeed, growing more rapidly and faring the better the warmer the water. I am satisfied there is no mill pond in any part of the Southern States where the carp will not thrive. It grows very rapidly, attaining the weight of two or three pounds in the course of as many years, and is extremely hardy. The flesh is excellent, the better varieties in Germany bring a quarter of a dollar a pound and ranking among the most esteemed species. The second merit of special qualification of the carp consists in its being a vegetable feeder and subsisting readily upon aquatic plants, whether they grow naturally in its vicinity or are planted for the purpose of furnishing it sustenance. In this it differs from the trout, black bass and other favorite pond fish, which, in order to become of practical value as a food supply must be fed with meat, involving more or less expense, especially in view of the fact that it takes from five to ten pounds of flesh to make one pound of trout or black bass. I do not think it possible to overestimate the future importance to the United States of this fish.

There are only five States in the Union where Governors are elected annually. These are Maine, New Hampshire, Rhode Island, Massachusetts and Michigan. In Alabama, Colorado, Connecticut, Iowa, Kansas, Minnesota, Nebraska, Nevada, New York, Ohio, South Carolina, Tennessee, Texas, Vermont and Wisconsin, Governors are elected every two years. In Pennsylvania and New Jersey they are elected every three years, and in the remaining sixteen States of the Union they are elected every four years. The smallest gubernatorial salaries ($1,000 per annum) are paid in Maine, New Hampshire, Michigan and Vermont. The largest salaries are paid in New York and Pennsylvania, whose Governors get $10,000. Louisiana pays her chief magistrate $8,000, California $6,000, Oregon $1,500, while the Governors of other States are paid in sums ranging from two to five thousand dollars and upwards.

The polygamous Mormons have heretofore recruited their ranks chiefly from England, Wales and Germany, but they are now said to be gathering a great many proselytes from the pine barrens of Georgia, North Carolina and Alabama. The converts belong mostly to the so-called "white trash," the poorest and most shiftless people of those States. Instead of going to Utah, however, they are emigrating to New Mexico, where the Mormons have a new colony, and where they expect to build up a greater stronghold than at Salt Lake City.

A fair idea of the wealth of New York city can be had from the assessed valuation for 1877, which is as follows: Real estate, $895,063,933; personal property, $206,028,160, making a total of $1,101,092,093. The law of New York requires that for purposes of taxation all property shall be assessed at its full valuation. Hence we get fair estimate of the aggregate wealth of the great metropolis in the above figures.

HONOR AND MORALS.

It is stated that the late Commodore Vanderbilt repaid the children of Mr. Horace Greeley a part of the loans which Greeley made to Cornelius Vanderbilt, Jr. This "part" was $5,000, only one-eighth of the amount which poor Greeley, in a moment of unguarded friendship, loaned to the young spendthrift Vanderbilt. And this mere bagatelle was only repaid to the Greeley heirs when it was found that the great editor had left but a mere pittance; at a time when the whole country was mourning his sad and tragic death; and when some influential friends of the old Commodore urged him to exhibit his generosity while poor Greeley's grave was still green.

It occurs to us, while reading the testimony of the Vanderbilt will case that instead of wrangling over an estate of a hundred millions or so, that the full sum due to Horace Greeley's estate should be promptly paid, with interest. It is said that Mr. Greeley's children have little or no income; hence how much more honorable it would be to pay the Vanderbilt debt due them, than to quarrel over a father's will. The law cannot compel that payment, but the higher law of honor and morals should suggest it. Unless the Vanderbilts heirs pay that debt, we shall consider them a greedy and ungrateful sort of people.

NOT A CANDIDATE.

During a recent visit to San Francisco, Gov. Bradley was interviewed as to his being a candidate for reelection, by a reporter of the Post. Old Broad-horns informed the reporter that he always had opposed the third term policy, as inconsistent with Democratic principles; and should not under any circumstances be a candidate for re-election. This is as it should be. Our opinion is that any third term, in either party, will have a hard time to be elected to any office in the gift of the people next fall. Give us a little rotation, ye that hold fat positions if you please!

HOBART'S REPLY.

Controller Hobart's answer to Gov. Bradley will be published in to-day's Enterprise. As the subject has been an exciting one there will be many who are anxious to see how Hobart answers Bradley, and the letter will be eagerly looked for.

THE INCOME TAX.

Since the announcement came from Washington that the obnoxious income tax was to be re-instated, we have endeavored to find some plausible reasons for this retrograde movement in political economy. But the only shadow of an excuse for its reinstatement is the assertion that nearly all the untaxed Government bonds are held by the wealthy classes, and that the only way to make these classes contribute their share to the general revenue is to restore the income tax. So far as this goes we cannot greatly demur. But in reaching that class of Government creditors, severe burthens will be placed on the backs of the industrial and saving. Those who keep the fruits of toil against age and a rainy day.

If it is determined to lay a tax on incomes, lay it on nothing under $3,000, and pile it up, if at all, on the richer classes, on individuals and estates that clear $25,000, $50,000 or $100,000 per annum. The speculating and monopolizing capitalists are the ones who make us pay dear for food, rent, fuel, etc., and they, if any, can afford to pay an income tax. But even then the measure will be unpopular, as direct taxation ever has been in this country. We are opposed to all income taxes, and especially when they are gathered from the economical and industrial classes.

The Democrats of the Tennessee Legislature repudiated the bonds that were sold to build the State House in which they were assembled. They will find, however, that rascality won't pay. Even the merchants of Tennessee will find themselves in disgrace when they apply for credit. There is only one way out of the difficulty, and that is for the people to repudiate the repudiationists.

SENATOR COCKRELL, of Missouri, denies the published report that he intends to propose a constitutional amendment forbidding forever the payment of pensions to ex-rebel soldiers. He believes in the advantages of such a provision as a pacificatory measure in our general politics, but sees no necessity for it.

REASONS OF THE SOUTH AND WEST FOR DESIRING TO IMPOSE AN INCOME TAX—UNEQUAL DIVISION OF THE NATIONAL BURDEN.

The argument which will be made in favor of the reimposition of the income tax is that this is the only way to make the burden of internal taxes equal, or nearly so, over the whole country. Mr. Randolph Tucker, of Virginia, one of the Committee of Ways and Means, has prepared a statement on this subject, in which it is shown that in 1875, out of a revenue from internal taxes of somewhat over $103,000,000, the North-eastern States, including Maine, New Hampshire, Vermont, Massachusetts, Rhode Island and Connecticut paid $4,000,000, but in proportion to population should have paid $9,250,000, and according to wealth nearly $14,000,000. The Middle States—New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania and Delaware—paid $24,000,000. Their contribution according to population would have been the same amount, but their proportion according to wealth would have been $38,500,000. The Northwestern States and the Territories, including Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, Michigan, Wisconsin, Iowa, Minnesota, Kansas, Nebraska, Montana, Dakota, Colorado, Arizona, Idaho, Utah and Wyoming, paid $43,500,000. Their proportionate share according to population would have been only $30,333,333, and according to wealth only $27,500,000. The Southern Middle States, including Maryland, Virginia, West Virginia, North Carolina, Kentucky and Missouri paid $26,000,000, but their proportion according to population would have been only $17,750,000, and according to wealth only $11,500,000. The cotton States, including South Carolina, Georgia, Florida, Alabama, Mississippi, Louisiana, Texas, Arkansas and Tennessee, paid $2,250,000, but their proportion according to population would have been $19,500,000, but according to wealth $17,000,000. The Pacific States paid over $3,000,000, but according to population should have paid less than $2,000,000, and according to wealth less than $2,250,000. A Washington correspondent of the New York Herald says further in regard to the subject: "It is asserted by the advocates of the income tax that nearly all the untaxed government bonds are owned in the Northern seaboard States, and that the only way to make this kind of property contribute its share to the general revenue is to levy an income tax. There is also a determination to lay a high tax on large incomes, the prevailing idea on this subject being to exempt all incomes under $2,000, and to graduate the tax from one per cent. up to five, and some wish it even up to seven or eight per cent. on incomes exceeding $30,000 or $40,000. The general belief is that the Northwest and the South will join together to impose the income tax, and the principal question seems to be about its amount. A plan will be urged on the House to so regulate the income tax as to exempt all incomes derived from salaries or professions or the actual labor of the individual, and tax only the accumulated wealth which itself yields an income to its possessors. This is thought to be the only fair way to levy an income tax, and several Representatives will urge that a tax thus laid on accumulated wealth ought to be a constant part of the internal revenue system."

REFUSING PASSAGE TO DRUNKEN MEN.

In a recent case the Indiana Supreme Court holds: A railroad company is not bound to receive any person as a passenger who is drunk to such a degree as to be disgusting, offensive, disagreeable or annoying; and a person so drunk as to be likely to violate the common proprieties, civilities and decencies of life has no right to passage while in that condition. The comfort and convenience of passengers generally must be protected, their opinions and feelings regarded and a proper decorum observed. Although in a railroad passenger car neither the highest breeding of the drawing room nor the fastidious delicacy of the parlor is required, yet the behavior of all persons therein should be becoming the place and the general character of the passengers. Slight intoxication, such as would not be likely to seriously affect the conduct of the person intoxicated, would not be sufficient ground to refuse passage in a public car, although the person's behavior might not be in all respects strictly becoming.

PLEASE SETTLE.

All persons indebted to the Journal are requested to make immediate payment.

Jones and Kinkead Mine.

Late developments in this mine make it apparent that, eventually, a good and extensive body of ore will be found. The crosscut on the 300-foot level has passed through streaks which assay from $80 to $150. The face is now in ledge matter of a very favorable character, which is forty feet below the 300 level, is in lively looking sulphuret rock. Here the water level has been reached, and the work will be continued with great caution. The work that has been done in the mine has been performed in a very systematic manner, and at the present time we believe that there are hundreds of tons of ore that would pay for milling, and we hope soon to see a quartz mill in Pyramid.

Secretary of State.

The many friends of Jasper Babcock, of Virginia, are desirous of having him present his name to the Republican State Convention for the nomination for Secretary of State. He would be rather an acceptable candidate, would Jasper. Washoe feels very friendly toward him for his efforts in behalf of our State Fair and the Agricultural Society, of which he has been a very active Trustee.

Levi Wilsey Dead.

Mr. L. Wilsey, a prominent merchant of Elko county, died yesterday, and his body was carried through on the west bound overland last night, being taken to Sacramento for interment. Mr. Wilsey was well known in this section of the State, and the news of his death will be heard with regret.

$25,000.

It is understood that Mr. B. F. Leete received a check for $25,000 for his interest in the Eagle Salt works. It is further understood that the bonanza firm put up the purchase money. The profits of the Salt works since first started, lack but a few dollars of being $100,000.

Bonanza Divs.

The Consolidated Virginia dividend of $2 is payable to-morrow. Probably the last $2 div. the grand old mine will ever disburse to the stockholders. The California div. is payable on Tuesday. More than likely she will reduce to $1 too.

We are in receipt of copies of the Independent, the new Cherry Creek paper. We hope that the new venture will prove a success, and we have every reason to believe it will.

The magnificent weather is the subject of much favorable comment. In the sweet by-and-by, when the Sierra is denuded, we shall only have Winter in name in this section.

Quicksilver.

The owners of the Washoe Consolidated Quicksilver Mine, who have had some men doing the required amount of work on the same, report that they have found very good ore. Their mine lies just north of the Humbert mine, on which reduction works are now in operation, Steamboat Valley. They assert that they have found just as good ore as is being worked by the Humbert brothers.

Personal.

E. L. Stern, Grand Master of the Odd Fellows of this State, was in town yesterday, the guest of L. L. Crockett, Esq. An exceedingly bright and good man, this same Emanuel.

Bullion.

Last night 98 bars of bullion came down from the bonanzas. Of this 52 were from the California, valued at $207,611 69, and 46 from Con. Virginia, worth $191,910 17.

Rev. J. J. Arnold, will preach a special sermon on this Sabbath evening, closing the week of prayer. Subject, "The final triumph of the Church."

NIGHT before last a gentleman interested in poultry visited Hoole's chicken house, and took away two nice hens. The heads were cut off and left for Hoole to bottle.

The Virginia Chronicle is credibly informed that there is to be no immediate reduction of $2 dividends by the Con. Virginia. Several months may elapse before it is so ordered.

The auction sale of remnants from the Chase store was the principal excitement of Virginia Street yesterday afternoon.

NORTHERN BELLE skips the dividend for December. Likely to resume next month, but she may pass another one.

REMEMBER that for Booth's fresh Eastern oysters, in cans, go to Salisbury & Wetherill's.

REV. WM. LUCAS is quite unwell. Rev. W. R. Jeny will officiate for him to-day.

THE "Irish dividend" of $2 on Alta is due to-morrow. The boys don't like it much.

AN assessment of $1 per share has been levied upon Savage.

THE skating is not quite so good as it used to was.

THE V. & T. paid their hands off yesterday.

HOPE FOR ALTA.

A special from San Francisco to the Virginia Chronicle says that the storm is over, and things are rapidly settling down again. A reaction in the leading stocks most affected by the panic set in yesterday afternoon, and a further effort to break them was wholly unsuccessful. The north end stocks reacted very strongly, and all except Con. Virginia seemed very firm and confidence in them quite restored.

Alta was the only exception to the rule. That stock is still quite paralyzed, and its former friends seem disposed to give it a wide berth until further development. The Cooks still come in for a round share of abuse, but they strenuously deny that they have sold any portion of their 55,000 shares. Seth Cook told me yesterday they had faith that the south drift would still develop a good body of ore, and his advice was to pay no heed to the hundreds of rumors set afloat.

It is rumored that some very rough disclosures are imminent in regard to the Bullion company's management. George Schultz was left out of the new directory at the election last Thursday, and yesterday J. S. Kennedy resigned as Secretary.

It is said that Schultz has failed to account for $225,000 of Bullion funds. He denied all knowledge of it till confronted with the checks upon which he had drawn it from the bank. Then he made a lame explanation which the Trustees did not accept, and he was once ejected from the management. Kennedy was also requested to resign. The letter now says that Schultz's management of all his mines involved a series of stupendous rascalities, and that the facts cannot be much longer withheld from the public.

In the House the Democrats have succeeded in passing Wood's drag-net resolution as an amendment to Hale's substitute. Sweeping investigations of all Government departments, without regard to the cost of the same will now be in order.

ATTORNEY GENERAL EMERY OF

Maine is inclined to regard the experience of the two years since capital punishment was abolished in that State as rather justifying the change, though he doubts whether the presence or absence of the death penalty has any great influence on the number of murders.

A short time ago thirty Russian farmers, with their families, arrived in New York on their way to the far West. Altogether they numbered 114. Their curious costumes attracted a good deal of attention at Castle Garden.

The Spanish army in Cuba, to put down the rebellion which has existed for five or six years, now numbers about 100,000 men, or four times that of the regular army of the United States.

THE rink at Hartford, which is to be the scene of Moody and Sankey's labors next month, has been fitted up to seat 3,000 persons, and provided with complete heating and lighting facilities.

Special Notice.

Having determined on reducing my large stock of goods, previous to stock taking, I will on Monday and following days offer such bargains in dry goods as will convince the public that this is a bona fide sale. Every piece of goods in the store has been marked down to the lowest possible price in order to effect a speedy clearance. This no humbug or mock sale. When we tell you that you can buy goods cheaper than ever before offered in Reno we mean just what we say. Our domestics, flannels, blankets, bedspreads, table linen and towels, are marked below cost. Cloaks, skirts, waterproof and dress goods, at cost. Give us a call and judge for yourself. N. B. The remainder of our Holiday goods at very low prices.

He will keep constantly on hand a general assortment of Yankee notions and fancy goods cheaper than any other house in Reno. We will have an auction sale every Saturday evening. Be sure and give us a call before purchasing elsewhere. Don't forget the place, opposite the Reno Opera House.

THE CITY DRUG STORE echoes that the prices of patent medicines, toilet and fancy articles have taken a tumble. If you do not believe it call and examine our stock of drugs, medicines and fancy goods. Our preparations of glycerine and Lieue Cream for cleansing and beautifying the hair, our Cream De Floridor for the complexion, our Fleurie De Lis for renewing the hair, and other articles, too numerous to mention, cannot be excelled by anybody; and are sold at prices as cheap as any drug store on the Pacific Coast.
